Virginia and Her Creditors. "A leading Virginia Democrat" is quoted as saying that the British holders of Virginia bonds will need to be discreet, for Virginia is on the verge of repudiation, and can only be prevented by the skill and tact of her creditors." This is not "important if true," but if true very bad for Virginia.

It would be bad for any debtor that only the skill of his creditors could keep him from falling into rank dishonesty, refusing to pay anything. In the case of the State of Virginia there could be no pretext savoring of honesty. She is not only rich in natural resources, but she has great developed resources, and her development goes on. The debt is hers and the bonds were taken in good faith for value. If she repudiates she can base the act on nothing higher than her determination not to pay If a politician can win on repudiation as a political issue, it will be because the people of Virginia are not honest, and the politician is observant enough to take

Whether Virginia will go the whole length, cannot, of course, be known in advance. It certainly is true, however, that there is a strong current of feeling in that direction. Yet we cometimes hear from the Old Dominion that West Virginia is dishonest because she will not step up season the national game attracts more attention, interests more people in a day than the discussions of a Cabinet meeting do in a year. The interest is not confined to the hundreds of thousands who attend the games, but is shared by other hundreds of thousands who find their pleasure in keeping up with the record of the playing.

In Wheeling there is great interest in the game, and it is not by any means confined to the youngsters. Grave men of business like to steal awhile away and see the lusty young fellows display their prowess in the ball field, and they will talk you blind on the fine points of all the clubs and players in the country. Could the Interest of the Interest in the interest of the patients of the patients the sense of the meeting. The result of that experiment was not at all satisfactory, but the effect at headquarters must have exceeded all surmises. For now another string is to be pulled, and a leading editorial article in the New York Times, Mugwump, opens the performance by vigorously pulling the same. Here is the summing up:

Now it has come about that there is an impression in the public mind that this honored citizm [President Cleveland] has incurred the heatility of the organization [the Roman Catholic Church], not political and not secular, that we have alluded to; that this heatility is due to the inflaxible fairness with which he has guarded the common interests and the steadiness with which he has refused to yield to its specious influence; that its ill will was expressed in partially concealed, but strennions, efforts to turn the votes of its adherents against him when he was last before the people, and that it is prepared in such ways as it can to prevent his again receiving from the Nation, should the Nation desire to bestow it, the bigh collice he now holds. This impression is not without foundation. In the minds of men who are necessarily intimately informed of the workings of this organization—a sealed record to those outside of it—the impression amounts to a conviction. It is not likely to be mistaken the steam of the people in grown amounts to a conviction. It is not likely to be mistaken the steam of the people in pression amounts to a conviction. It is not likely to be mistaken the steam of the people in pression amounts to a conviction. It is not likely to be mistaken the steam of the people in the people in the steam of the people in the people it—the impression amounts to a con-viction. It is not likely to be mistaken not merely some Catholic voters, but the "organization"—did its level best in 1884 to defeat Cleveland, and will attempt the ame thing in 1888. The aim of this accuestion is to stir up Protestant Democrat to renewed efforts in behalf of Cleveland's omination; that secured, to present Cleveland as a Protestant champion whom the Church of Rome, in its "ghoulish glee," is trying to ride down because it annot use him.

Mr. Cleveland is welcome to all he can at out of this kind of bosh. Next we shall be hearing that the Pope of Rome is figuring for the Republican nomination for the Presidency.

NEW CONSUMPTION TREATMENT. Conservative Estimate of Bergeon' rnal of the American Medical As If experience justifies the claims of M Bergeon for his method of dealing with this deadly foe to mankind, he will have llustrated the saying of Horace:

Fxegi monumentum acro perennius.

There is another name which should be associated with his in honor: that of Claud Bernard, since his experience thirty years ago laid the foundation for this present discovery.

It is not likely that in this or any other

It is not likely that in this or any other form of treatment will be found a cure for all cases of pulmonary phthisis. Yet such are the results already gained in numerous cases by the rectal administration of carbon dioxide charged with sulphuretted hydrogen as to expose the physician, who does not try it in any given case of consumption, to the charge of culpable negligance. Therefore, though the majority of our readers are probably familiar with this novel treatment through descriptions published in this and other journals, we propose to state a few points for the sake of any one who may chance to desire enlightenment. Full descriptions of the apparatus and the methods of its employment are to be found in the British Medical Journal of December 18, 1886, and the Medical News of April 2, 1887, besides various French journals, and a pamphlet published by M. Morel, Burgeon's assistant.

The results claimed by the inaugurator

the Old Dominion that West Virginia is dishonest because she will not step up and pay with interest the face value of the certificates issued sgainst her by the old State. Nobody who understands the case supposes for a moment that the territory comprising the State of West Virginia over received a third of the expenditure of public funds in the old State. Nobody in either State has ever thought that any such aum would be paid by West Virginia.

The very act of setting off that much to be paid to Virginia's creditors when it should be received from West Virginia was itself dishonest—a mere contrivance to whipsaw Virginia's creditors, who, from first to last, have had a hard time of it, and are not through yet.

A reader for whom the Intelligencer's Excellent Base Hall Reports, who, from grate to much attention to base shall reports, as there are being carried away by enthusiasm? What other line of once active, but now quiescent pulmonic lesions. Furthermore, M. Chantements there that will accompish as strikingly efficient in allaying parcxysms of the end of the chapter. One man looks for what he wants, reads it and that is all he cares for. Another begins at the top of the first column on the first page and takes the paper through line by line to the end, missing nothing.

Everything in its season and in its fair proportion, is a good motto for a newspaper; and this is about the International proportion of it.

The Pope's Finger in the Pie.

Until recently it seemed that Mr. Cleveland had his party so securely bucked and gagged that it would be impossible for it to get away from him about convention time.

The first indication of a misgiving on the part of himself and his friends was the feeler they threw out lately to test the sense of the meeting. The result of that experiment was not at all satisfactory, but the effect at hendquarters must have a sourced and surprise. For recently the weakened bowl.

forced to count this powerful organization among the enemies their trusted servant by his faithfulness to them has made, they will most certainly know how to protect him and themselves. No surer method could be devised to strengthen him in their confidence and affection and to confirm their confidence and affection not to confirm their purpose further to honor him than to persuade them that he is the victim of a policy that is absolutely inconsistent with the free working of institutions made for and by Americans, and that were not meant to be, and shall not be, controlled from Rome.

Where Their Merit Lies. Where Their Merit Lies.

When anything stands a test of flity years among a discriminating people like the Americans it is pretty good evidence that there is merit somewhere. Such a test Brandreth's Pills have stood and thousands of unsolicited testimonials every year prove their merit. The Pills are purely vegetable and are the result of the highest medical and chemical skill. They have never been known to fall in their highest medical and chemical skill. They have never been known to fall in their work; they have never caused any one the slightest inconvenience, no matter when taken, and there is little doubt that they have really saved thousands of lives. The best evidence of their value lies in their increasing sale. Brandreth's Pills have truly become a household necessity.

Why stokes Will Never Deal Fare Again, John W. D. Stokes sent $2 for the purchase of ticket in the Louisiana State Lottery in the February drawing. He received a fifth of No. 45,151, and when he learned that it called for part of the $50,000 prize he resigned as dealer in a prominent gambling house. The money arrived by express. He is now enjoying a season of rest, and is having his wife, who is nearly blind, treated for her affliction. Stokes says he will never deal fare again.
